Time and Conditions of Admission.

The regular examination for admission to the Freshman Class will take place on the Thursday and Friday of the week preceding Commencement week. There will be a second examination on the first day of the first term. In special cases, applicants may be examined at other times.

Candidates for advanced standing will be subjected to a general examination in the studies already pursued by the class they propose to enter. No student can be admitted as a candidate for matriculation unless he produces testimonials of good character.

Students coming from other Colleges and bringing certificates of dismission, in accordance with the established custom of Colleges, may, upon proof of their qualifications, be admitted to corresponding standing in this College.

The success of the student in College depends so much upon a thorough preparatory course, that the College authorities are compelled to be more strict in their requirements than formerly.

Candidates for the Freshman Class are often very deficient in the rudiments of an English Education, as well as in the Grammars of the Latin and Greek Languages. Thorough preparatory training is necessary to enable students to pursue the prescribed College Courses with pleasure and profit.

For the Course for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in the following subjects; but real equivalents for any of the following requirements will be accepted:

Latin.—Latin Grammar; Three Books of Cæsar's Gallic War; One Book of Virgil's Æneid.

Greek.—Greek Grammar; Greek Reader, or Two Books of Xenophon's Anabasis.

Mathematics.—Arithmetic and Elementary Algebra.

English.—English Grammar; Descriptive and Physical Geography; History of the United States.

For the Course for the Degree of Bachelor of Philosophy.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in all the studies specified above, Greek excepted.

For the Select Course.

Students who wish to take a Select Course, without entering as candidates for a Degree, must undergo an examination in such subjects as are preparatory to the studies which they desire to pursue in College.

Second: For the Degree of Bachelor of Philosophy.

The course for this Degree is the same as that for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, with the omission of the Greek Language.

Third: The Select Course.

Students not wishing to take one of the above prescribed courses will be assisted, when desirable, in the selection of such studies as may best promote any designated object. These branches are pursued under the same laws and regulations as those of the prescribed courses, but no degrees or honors are conferred.

Fourth: Elective Course.

FOR THE DEGREE OF A. B.

At the beginning of the Junior year an election of Languages may be made under the following limitations:

1. Every student in this course must take at least two languages.
2. Latin must be continued by all students during Junior year.
3. Those students that elect modern languages must begin them in their Junior year, and must pursue one of them two years.
4. The languages among which a choice is to be made at the beginning of Junior year are Greek, French and German.

In the Senior year Hebrew and Latin are elective.

FOR THE DEGREE OF B. PH.

The election is the same as for the A. B. course, with the omission of Greek.

Post-Graduate Courses for the Degree of Master of Arts.

By the action of the Trustees at their meeting in 1884, the Degree of Master of Arts is no longer conferred regularly as heretofore upon Bachelors of three years' standing.

The following scheme leading to this Degree has been adopted by the Board of Trustees:

1. Admission to a course for the A. M. Degree is open to all Bachelors of Art or of Philosophy of this College, or any other College which requires equivalent work for graduation. In special cases, opportunity to study for the Degree may be given to those who are not graduates of any College.

2. The course for the degree extends over a period of two years, and the Degree will not, except in extraordinary cases, be conferred until after two years from date of application.

3. Persons who desire to study for the Degree must make application before November 1st.

4. Examinations for such as may apply are held about the middle of June.

5. The fee for the Degree shall be ten dollars.

For information as to the courses of study, application should be made to the Secretary of the Faculty.

Preparatory Department.

This department is under the immediate direction and supervision of the Faculty, and the laws and regulations are the same as in the Collegiate Department. The Course of Study embraces three years—Junior, Intermediate and Senior. To enter the Junior Class, the applicant must be able to spell with reasonable correctness, to write legibly and easily, to read fluently both script and print. To enter the Intermediate or Senior Class, he must pass examination in the studies of the preceding class, or fair equivalents.

The Course of Study is as follows:

Chase & Stuart's Cæsar, Goodwin's Greek Grammar, Harkness' First Greek Book, Spencerian Penmanship, Robinson's Elementary Algebra, Wentworth's Complete Algebra.

Business Department.

Recognizing the need of a department for the training of young men for the active duties of business life, the Board of Trustees at their meeting in June, 1888, resolved to establish a Business Department, in addition to the other courses, for thorough instruction in Book-keeping, Penmanship, Telegraphy, Shorthand and Typewriting. The Faculty of the College will continue to insist on the regular College Course as always the best for those students who have the time and the means. The creation of the Technical or Business Department will not be allowed to interfere with the chief aim of Newberry College, namely, to afford opportunity for a thorough collegiate Christian education. This new department is designed to meet the wants of young men who have limited means or who do not care to pursue a full course of study. It is hoped in the near future to extend this department so as to include other mechanical instruction than that now provided for.

BOOK-KEEPING.

The course in this branch embraces three divisions—a Preparatory or Theoretical, a Junior Practical, and a Senior Practical.

In the Theoretical division the student is familiarized with the rudiments of Book-keeping. At the very beginning of his course he learns the principles and the technical terms of the science of accounts, and becomes acquainted with the different journal entries, posting, taking trial balances, closing the ledger, drawing all kinds of commercial paper, averaging accounts, partnership settlements, and short methods of calculating interest and discount.

The Junior Practical division is intended to engage the students in actual business transactions. Real currency, merchandise and paper are handled, so that the reality of every transaction will awaken the interest and develop the ability of the student. Being furnished with the necessary Cash Capital and blank books, he commences business operations. He leases a store by a regular Lease or Deed, such as is necessary to an actual legal contract; purchases a stock of goods at the Merchants' Emporium; takes out a policy on his own store and goods at the Insurance Office; opens an account with the College Bank; and so in this manner he is, throughout the entire work, engaged in actual transactions, and is obliged to keep his own books and to show a balance for each day's operations.

The Senior Practical division is the Office Department. It includes Railroad, Express, Insurance and Real Estate Offices, the Commission House, Merchants' Emporium and College Bank. Under the supervision of his instructor, the student takes charge of the office books, and by actual work acquires a knowledge of the best methods in the shortest time.

In addition to the regular work in these divisions, lectures are given on commercial paper, commercial law, success in business and similar topics.

The expense for books and stationery for the course in Book-keeping will not exceed six dollars.

PENMANSHIP.

The Inductive System of Teaching Rapid Writing is taught in the leading Business Colleges of the country, and is acknowledged by prominent educators to be the only successful method of teaching practical penmanship. This is the system in use here. The value of rapid writing is manifest. To produce a rapid and legible writer is the aim of instruction. The student is taught a good and natural position, and then has presented to him simple forms, together with the exact time in which they should be made, in order that he may acquire a movement which will produce a fine line, a smooth shade and a graceful letter. By introducing speed at the beginning of the course and by excluding slow writing, the student is led to acquire an easy practical style of writing adapted to actual business.

The course includes thorough instruction in plain and ornamental writing, pen-drawing, embracing capitals, scrolls and flourishes.

TELEGRAPHY.

The instruction in this branch includes all that is necessary to make students proficient operators by sound, enabling them to transmit messages as well as to understand the construction of telegraph lines.

SHORTHAND.

The system of shorthand taught is that known as Brakigraphy. It is characterized by simplicity in construction and scientific method. The learner in his progress receives a reason for every step forward. A thorough drill in rapid reading and writing is given in addition to an accurate knowledge of the principles of the art.

TYPE-WRITING.

This exceedingly useful art is taught on the machine called the Calligraph. Any skillful operator on it can soon familiarize himself with other type-writers. The aim of instruction is to fit the student for rapid and correct transcription from notes, as well as for writing directly by means of the machine without copy.

QUALIFICATIONS.

The qualifications for entrance in the Business Department are a common school education, especially a knowledge of Arithmetic and of the correct use of English.

Honors, Degrees, Etc.

That member of the Graduating Class who shall during the course maintain the highest grade is known as the First Honor Man and that one maintaining the next highest is the Second Honor Man; The Salutatory and Valedictory are assigned to these two.

An Honor Roll—a first, consisting of those students who grade is 92 or more, and a second, consisting of those who grade is not less than 86 and not more than 92—is made at the close of each session.

Public announcement is made during Commencement of all names appearing on either Honor Roll.

DEGREES.

The following degrees are conferred by the Board of Trustees :

1. The Degree of Bachelor of Arts upon all students who have passed a satisfactory examination upon the prescribed Classical Course.

2. The Degree of Bachelor of Philosophy upon all students who have passed a satisfactory examination upon the Course prescribed for that Degree.

3. The Degree of Master of Arts upon any Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Philosophy who passes a satisfactory examination upon one of the Courses prescribed for this Degree.

Government.

The Students, in all the departments, are governed by the Faculty in accordance with regulations laid down by the Board of Trustees.

This government is of a mild, but decided nature, and is generally effected—

1st. By persistent and stringent efforts to develop and establish the strictest principles, and to awaken and stimulate an active interest in the daily exercises.

2nd. By honorable mention in the class room, chapel, catalogue, and on public occasions.

3d. By general and particular counsel from the President, whenever the same may be needed.

4th. By a system of demerits.

5th. By probation.

6th. By suspension.

7th. By expulsion as a last resort.

MATRICULATION.

Every student having completed his fourteenth year, and having a good record of deportment, is formally matriculated two weeks from the date of his admission.

REPORTS.

Reports respecting the conduct and scholarship of the students are sent to the parents and guardians at the close of each term. These show the number of absences from recitation, the class standing, and such other facts as it may be deemed proper to communicate.

MORAL CULTURE.

All the students are required to be present at the religious exercises, which are held each morning in the College Chapel, and to attend services in the College Church every Lord's Day, unless permitted to attend some other church designated by the parent or guardian.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The College year is divided into three terms. The first term begins on the first school day of October and ends the last of December. The second term begins on the first school day in January and ends the last of March. The third term begins on the first school day in April and ends with Commencement.

EXAMINATIONS.

Examinations, oral and written, take place at the close of each term. No student is permitted to absent himself from examination.

RULES OF EXAMINATION.

1. Students shall be seated as directed by the examining officer.
2. No book or paper shall be brought into the examination room.
3. No student shall hold any communication with another, either orally or by writing, while under examination.
4. Each student must write his papers in a fair legible hand, and sign his name thereto.
5. The exercises shall be written on papers prepared for the purpose, which shall not be detached from each other by the student.
6. No student shall leave the room until the completion of the exercises.
7. Each student is permitted to retire when he has completed his paper. Before leaving the room he must deposit his paper upon the table, or make such other disposition of it as the presiding officer may direct.
8. The examining officer is charged with a rigid execution of the rules.

Libraries.

The Library consists of about 6,000 volumes, to which all the students have access. Numerous contributions are from time to time made by publishers and friends of the College. Besides the College Library, there are libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies reserved for the use of their respective members.

SIFLEY MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY.

The collections already made are illustrative of Natural History, Archæology and Ethnology, and are arranged in such a way as to render them accessible both to students and visitors. The College affords a secure depository for objects of value and curiosity, and it is, therefore, hoped that frequent gifts will be made to the Cabinet and Museum.

READING ROOM.

The Reading Room, connected with the College, contains some of the best periodicals and newspapers of the day, kept on file for the use of the students.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two Literary Societies connected with the College—the Phrenakosmian and the Excelsior. A good opportunity is herein afforded for improvement in composition, debate and elocution. The halls appropriated to the use of the Societies are large and neatly furnished. The societies meet once a week. They publicly celebrate the anniversaries of their organizations. These Societies are considered a part of the educational appliances of the College and all matriculated students are required to join one of them.

LOCATION.

The College is located at Newberry, S. C., a healthy and beautiful town, in one of the best sections of the State. Intermediate between the extreme northern and southern sections of the country, this locality especially commends itself to Southern students. Newberry is noted for the intelligence and refinement of its citizens. The College building is situated on an eminence overlooking the town, and, in its ample and pleasant accommodations, is unsurpassed by any building for similar purposes in the State.

REMARKS.

The instructions and regulations of the College are such as to secure the application of the student to study, to shield him from the perils of temptation, and to promote a moral deportment. Parents sending their sons to Newberry College may do so with the assurance that everything will be done to promote their highest intellectual and moral training.

It is highly important that students enter College at the beginning of the term. In some cases it is impossible to make up the loss occasioned by an absence of even a few days. In view of the injurious effects of all absences, either at the beginning or at any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to encourage, or even sanction, such absences without urgent reasons.

No student is allowed to leave the town during the session without the permission of the President, nor to withdraw from the College without the consent of the Faculty, on the written authority of his parent or guardian.

All necessary books and stationery may be obtained in the town at publishers' prices.

Wants of the College.

The design of NEWBERRY COLLEGE is to give deserving students of moderate means the best opportunity for thorough education and true culture. There are, however, many deserving young men, earnestly desiring to fit themselves for usefulness, who cannot meet even the small expenses of the College.

The College has no scholarships, nor other provision for assisting poor students. We earnestly ask that this want be met by the provision of funds for Scholarships.

It is imperative, also, that the Endowment Fund of the College be largely increased. In this respect it is just and reasonable that the College should be placed upon a firm basis.

The College needs an astronomical observatory, philosophical and chemical apparatus, money and books for the Library, statues, pictures, and other works of art, and specimens of all kinds for the Museum.

I give and bequeath to the Trustees of Newberry College the sum of ——— dollars, to be appropriated by the Trustees for the benefit of the College in such manner as in their discretion they shall think will be most useful.

I give and bequeath to the Trustees of Newberry College the sum of ——— dollars, to be safely invested by them and called the ——— scholarship Fund. The interest on this fund shall be applied to aid deserving students in Newberry College.

COLLEGIATE DEPARTMENT.

TIME AND CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

The regular examination for admission to the Freshman Class will take place on the Thursday and Friday of the week preceding Commencement week. There will be a second examination on the first day of the first term. In special cases applicants may be examination at other times.

Candidates for advanced standing will be subjected to a general examination in the studies already pursued by the class they propose to enter. No student can be entered as a candidate for matriculation unless he produces testimonials of good character.

Students coming from other Colleges and bringing certificates of dismission, in accordance with the established custom of Colleges, may, upon proof of their qualifications, be admitted to corresponding standing in this College.

The success of the student in College depends so much upon a thorough preparatory course, that the authorities of the College are compelled to be more strict in their requirements than formerly.

Candidates for the Freshman Class are often very deficient in the rudiments of an English Education, as well as in the Grammars of the Latin and Greek Languages. Thorough preparatory training is necessary to enable students to pursue the prescribed College Courses with pleasure and profit.

FOR THE COURSE FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF ARTS.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in the following subjects;—but real equivalents for any of the following requirements will be accepted:

Latin.—Latin Grammar; Three Books of Cæsar's Gallic War; One Book of Virgil's Æneid.

Greek.—Greek Grammar; Greek Reader, or Two Books of Xenophon's Anabasis.

Mathematics.—Arithmetic and Elementary Algebra.

English.—English Grammar; Descriptive and Physical Geography; History of the United States.

FOR THE COURSE FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF PHILOSOPHY.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in all the studies specified above, Greek excepted.

FOR THE SELECT COURSE.

Students who wish to a Select Course, without entering as candidates for a Degree, must undergo an examination in such subjects as are preparatory to the studies which they desire to pursue in College.

Second: For the Degree of Bachelor of Philosophy.

The course for this Degree is the same as that for the Degree of Bachelor of Arts, with the omission of the Greek Language.

Third: The Select Course.

Students not wishing to take one of the above prescribed courses will be assisted, when desirable, in the selection of such studies as may best promote any designated object. These branches are pursued under the same laws and regulations as those of the prescribed courses, but no degrees or honors are conferred.

Post-Graduate Courses for the Degree of Master of Arts.

By the action of the Trustees at their meeting in 1884, the Degree of Master of Arts is no longer conferred regularly as heretofore upon Bachelors of three years' standing.

The following scheme leading to this Degree has been adopted by the Board of Trustees:

1. Admission to a course for the A. M. Degree is open to all Bachelors of Art or of Philosophy of this College, or any other College which requires equivalent work for graduation. In special cases, opportunity to study for the Degree may be given to those who are not graduates of any College.

2. The course for the Degree extends over a period of two years, and and the Degree will not, except in extraordinary cases, be conferred until after two years from date of application.

3. Persons who desire to study for the Degree must make application before November 1st.

4. Examinations for such as may apply are held about the middle of June.

5. The fee for the Degree shall be ten dollars.

For information as to the courses of study, application should be made to the Secretary of the Faculty.

PREPARATORY DEPARTMENT.

This department is under the immediate direction and supervision of the Faculty, and the laws and regulations are the same as in the Collegiate Department. The course of Study embraces three years—Junior, Intermediate and Senior. To enter the Junior Class, the applicant must be able to spell with reasonable correctness, to write legibly and easily, to read fluently both script and print. To enter the Intermediate or Senior Class, he must pass examination in the studies of the preceding class, or fair equivalents.

The Course of Study is as follows:

JUNIOR CLASS.

Orthography, Penmanship, Reading, Rudiments of Arithmetic, Modern Geography, English Grammar, Latin Grammar, Latin Exercises, History of United States, First Lessons in Composition, Declamation.

INTERMEDIATE CLASS.

Reading, Penmanship, Orthography, English Grammar, Geography, Arithmetic, History of the United States (continued), Latin Grammar, Dictation Exercises, Composition and Declamation.

phies, Hart's Lessons in English, Chambers' History of the United States, Swinton's Outlines of the World's History, Beginner's Latin Book—Collar & Daniel, Chase & Stuart's Cæsar, Goodwin's Greek Grammar, Harkness' First Greek Book, Spencerian Penmanship, Robinson's Elementary Algebra, Wentworth's Complete Algebra.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT.

Recognizing the need of a department for the training of young men for the active duties of business life, the Board of Trustees at their meeting in June, 1888, resolved to establish a Business Department, in addition to the other courses, for thorough instruction in Book-keeping, Penmanship, Telegraphy, Shorthand and Typewriting. The Faculty of the College will continue to insist on the regular College Course as always the best for those students who have the time and the means. The creation of the Technical or Business Department will not be allowed to interfere with the chief aim of Newberry College, namely, to afford opportunity for a thorough collegiate Christian education. This new department is designed to meet the wants of young men who have limited means or who do not care to pursue a full course of study. It is hoped in the near future to extend this department so as to include other mechanical instruction than that now provided for.

BOOK-KEEPING.

The course in this branch embraces three divisions—a Preparatory or Theoretical, a Junior Practical, and a Senior Practical.

In the Theoretical division the student is familiarized with the rudiments of Book-keeping. At the very beginning of his course he learns the principles and the technical terms of the science of accounts, and becomes acquainted with the different journal entries, posting, taking trial balances, closing the ledger, drawing all kinds of commercial paper, averaging accounts, partnership settlements, and short methods of calculating interest and discount.

The Junior Practical division is intended to engage the students in actual business transactions. Real currency, merchandise and paper are handled, so that the reality of every transaction will awaken the interest and develop the ability of the student. Being furnished with the necessary Cash Capital and blank books, he commences business operations. He leases a store by a regular Lease or Deed, such as is necessary to an actual legal contract; purchases a stock of goods at the Merchants' Emporium; takes out a policy on his own store and goods at the Insurance Office; opens an account with the College Bank; and so in this manner he is, throughout the entire work, engaged in actual transactions, and is obliged to keep his own books and to show a balance for each day's operations.

The Senior Practical division is the Office Department. It includes Railroad, Express, Insurance and Real Estate Offices, the Commission House, Merchants' Emporium and College Bank. Under the supervision of his instructor, the student takes charge of the office books, and by actual work acquires a knowledge of the best methods in the shortest time.

In addition to the regular work in these divisions, lectures are given on commercial paper, commercial law, success in business and similar topics.

The expense for books and stationery for the course in Book-keeping will not exceed six dollars.

PENMANSHIP.

The Inductive System of Teaching Rapid Writing is taught in the leading Business Colleges of the country, and is acknowledged by prominent educators to be the only successful method of teaching practical penmanship. This is the system in use here. The value of rapid writing is manifest. To produce a rapid and legible writer is the aim of instruction. The student is taught a good and natural position, and then has presented to him simple forms, together with the exact time in which they should be made, in order that he may acquire a movement which will produce a fine line, a smooth shade and a graceful letter. By introducing speed at the beginning of the course and by excluding slow writing, the student is led to acquire an easy practical style of writing adapted to actual business.

The course includes thorough instruction in plain and ornamental writing, pen-drawing, embracing capitals, scrolls and flourishes.

TELEGRAPHY.

The instruction in this branch includes all that is necessary to make students proficient operators by sound, enabling them to transmit messages as well as to understand the construction of telegraph lines.

SHORTHAND.

The system of shorthand taught is that known as Brakigraphy. It is characterized by simplicity in construction and scientific method. The learner in his progress receives a reason for every step forward. A thorough drill in rapid reading and writing is given in addition to an accurate knowledge of the principles of the art.

TYPE-WRITING.

This exceedingly useful art is taught on the machine called the Caligraph. Any skillful operator on it can soon familiarize himself with other type-writers. The aim of instruction is to fit the student for rapid and correct transcription from notes, as well as for writing directly by means of the machine without copy.

QUALIFICATIONS.

The qualifications for entrance in the Business Department are a common school education, especially a knowledge of Arithmetic and of the correct use of English.

HONORS, DEGREES, CERTIFICATES.

That member of the Graduating Class who shall during the course maintain the highest grade is known as the First Honor Man; and that one maintaining the next highest is the Second Honor Man. The Valedictory and Salutatory are assigned to these two.

An Honor Roll—a first, consisting of those students whose grade is 92 or more, and a second, consisting of those whose grade is not less than 86 and not more than 92—is made at the close of each session.

Public announcement is made during Commencement of all names appearing on either Honor Roll.

DEGREES.

The following degrees are conferred by the Board of Trustees:

1. The Degree of Bachelor of Arts upon all students who have passed a satisfactory examination upon the prescribed Classical Course.

2. The Degree of Bachelor of Philosophy upon all students who have passed a satisfactory examination upon the Course prescribed for that Degree.

3. The Degree of Master of Arts upon any Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Philosophy who passes a satisfactory examination upon one of the Courses prescribed for this Degree.

CERTIFICATES.

Certificates of Proficiency are granted to students of not less than two years' standing, in any study in the college, upon passing a satisfactory examination and upon payment of the regular Graduation Fee.

No student will be allowed to compete for any of the above Medals or Prizes, except the Oratorical and Latin Medals, unless he has entered for the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

GOVERNMENT.

The College is under the supervision of a Board of Trustees.

The Students, in all the departments, are governed by the Faculty in accordance with regulations laid down by the Board of Trustees.

This government is of a mild, but decided nature, and is generally effected—

1st. By persistent and stringent efforts to develop and establish the strictest principles, and to awaken and stimulate an active interest in the daily exercises.

2nd. By honorable mention in the class room, chapel, catalogue, and on public occasions.

3d. By general and particular counsel from the President, whenever the same may be needed.

4th. By a system of demerits.

5th. By probation.

6th. By suspension.

7th. By expulsion as a last resort.

MATRICULATION.

Every student having completed his fourteenth year, and having a good record of deportment, is formally matriculated two weeks from the date of his admission.

REPORTS.

Reports respecting the conduct and scholarship of the students are sent to the parents and guardians at the close of each term. These show the number of absences from recitation, the class standing, and such other facts as may be deemed proper to communicate.

MORAL CULTURE.

All the students are required to be present at the religious exercises, which are held each morning in the College Chapel, and to attend services in the College Church every Lord's Day, unless permitted to attend some other church designated by the parent or guardian.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The College year is divided into three terms. The first term begins on the first school day of October and ends the last day of December. The second term begins on the first school day in January and ends the last of March. The third term begins on the first school day in April and ends with Commencement.

EXAMINATIONS.

Examinations, oral and written, take place at the close of each term. No student is permitted to absent himself from examination.

RULES OF EXAMINATION.

1. Students shall be seated as directed by the examining officer.
2. No book or paper shall be brought into the examination room.
3. No student shall hold any communication with another, either orally or by writing, while under examination.
4. Each student must write his papers in a fair legible hand, and sign his name thereto.
5. The exercises shall be written on papers prepared for the purpose, which shall not be detached from each other by the student.
6. No student shall leave the room until the completion of the exercises.
7. Each student is permitted to retire when he has completed his paper. Before leaving the room he must deposit his paper upon the table, or make such other disposition of it as the presiding officer may direct.
8. The examining officer is charged with a rigid execution of the rules.

LIBRARIES.

The Library consists of about 6,000 volumes, to which all the students have access. Numerous contributions are from time to time made by publishers and friends of the College. Besides the College Library, there are libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies reserved for the use of their respective members.

SIFLEY MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY.

The collections already made are illustrative of Natural History, Archæology, Ethnology, and are arranged in such a way as to render them accessible both to students and visitors. The College affords a secure depository for objects of value and curiosity, and it is, therefore, hoped that frequent gifts will be made to the Cabinet and Museum.

READING ROOM.

The Reading Room, connected with the College, contains some of the best periodicals and newspapers of the day, kept on file for the use of the students.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two Literary Societies connected with the College —the Phrenakosmian and the Excelsior. A good opportunity is herein afforded for improvement in composition, debate and elocution. The halls appropriated to the use of the Societies are large and neatly furnished. The Societies meet once a week. They publicly celebrate the anniversaries of their organizations. These Societies are considered a part of the educational appliances of the College and all matriculated students are required to join one of them.

LOCATION.

The College is located at Newberry, S. C., a healthy and beautiful town, in one of the best sections of the State. Intermediate between the extreme northern and southern sections of the country, this locality especially commends itself to Southern students. Newberry is noted for the intelligence and refinement of its citizens. The College building is situated on an eminence overlooking the town, and, in its ample and pleasant accommodations, is unsurpassed by any building for similar purposes in the State.

REMARKS.

The instructions and regulations of the College are such as to secure the application of the students to study, to shield him from the perils of temptation, and to promote a moral deportment. Parents sending their sons to Newberry College may do so with the assurance that everything will be done to promote their highest intellectual and moral training.

It is highly important that students enter College at the beginning of the term. In some cases it is impossible to make up the loss occasioned by an absence of only a few days. In view of the injurious effects of all absences, either at the beginning or at any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to encourage, or even sanction, such absence without urgent reasons.

No student is allowed to leave the town during the session without the permission of the President, nor to withdraw from the College without the consent of the Faculty, on the written authority of his parent or guardian.

All necessary books and stationery may be obtained in the town at publishers' prices.

For further information address the President.

WANTS OF THE COLLEGE.

The design of NEWBERRY COLLEGE is to give deserving students of moderate means the best opportunity for thorough education and true culture. There are, however, many deserving young men, earnestly desiring to fit themselves for usefulness, who cannot meet even the small expenses of the College.

The College has no scholarships, nor other provision for assisting poor students. We earnestly ask that this want be met by the provision of funds for Scholarships.

It is imperative, also, that the Endowment Fund of the College be largely increased. In this respect it is just and reasonable that the College should be placed upon a firm basis.

The College needs an astronomical observatory, philosophical and chemical apparatus, money and books for the Library, statues, pictures, and other works of art, and specimens of all kinds for the Museum.

FORMS OF BEQUEST.

I give and bequeath to the Trustees of Newberry College the sum of ——— dollars, to be appropriated by the Trustees for the benefit of the College in such manner as in their discretion they shall think will be most useful.

I give and bequeath to the Trustees of Newberry College the sum of ——— dollars, to be safely invested by them and called the ——— Scholarship Fund. The interest on this fund shall be applied to aid deserving students of Newberry College.

I give and bequeath to the Trustees of Newberry College the sum of ———dollars, to be safely invested by them, and be called the ——— Endowment Fund. The interest shall be applied to the payment of the salaries to teachers, in Newberry College, as the Trustees shall deem expedient.

I give and bequeath to the Trustees of Newberry College the sum of ——— dollars, to be used by them in the purchase of books for the Library, of apparatus for the use of the College, or in such other manner as they shall deem expedient.

TIME AND CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

The regular examination for admission to the Freshman Class will take place on the Thursday and Friday of the week preceding Commencement week. There will be a second examination on the first day of the first term. In special cases applicants may be examined at other times.

Candidates for advanced standing will be subjected to a general examination in the studies already pursued by the class they propose to enter. No student can be entered as a candidate for matriculation unless he produces testimonials of good character.

Students coming from other Colleges and bringing certificates of dismission, in accordance with the established custom of Colleges, may, upon proof of their qualifications, be admitted to corresponding standing in this College.

The success of the student in College depends so much upon a thorough preparatory course, that the authorities of the College are compelled to be more strict in their requirements than formerly.

Candidates for the Freshman Class are often very deficient in the rudiments of an English Education, as well as in the Grammars of the Latin and Greek Languages. Thorough preparatory training is necessary to enable students to pursue the prescribed College Courses with pleasure and profit.

FOR THE COURSE FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF ARTS.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in the following subjects, but real equivalents for any of the following requirements will be accepted :

Latin.—Grammar; Three Books of Cæsar's Gallic War; One Book of Virgil's Æneid.

Greek.—Grammar; Reader, or Two Books of Xenophon's Anabasis,

Mathematics.—Arithmetic; Algebra to Quadratics.

English—Grammar; Descriptive and Physical Geography; History of the United States.

At a conference of representatives from the Colleges of South Carolina, held at Greenwood, April 15th, 1892, a uniform list of requirements for admission to the Freshman Class of the Colleges of South Carolina was approved and recommended. At the time of issuing this catalogue, the requirements proposed by the conference had not yet been acted on by Newberry College, but it is likely they will be adopted, to go into effect in 1893. Meanwhile the proposed terms of admission are printed here:

Mathematics.—Arithmetic complete; Algebra through Quadratics or to Ratio and Proportion.

Latin.—Grammar complete; Composition (25 lessons); Cæsar, 3 books.

Greek.—Grammar to Syntax of the verb; Composition as in White's, Leighton's or Harper's Lessons; Anabasis, 2 books.

English.—Grammar; a Composition of about 150 words based on some author—e. g., Irving's Sketch Book.

Geography.—Descriptive.

History.—United States; Greek and Roman (e. g., Pennell or Barnes) combined with Ancient Geography.

FOR THE COURSE FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF PHILOSOPHY.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in all the studies specified above, Greek excepted.

FOR THE SELECT COURSE.

Students who wish to pursue a Select Course, without entering as candidates for a Degree, must undergo an examination in such subjects as are preparatory to the studies which they desire to pursue in College.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

GOVERNMENT.

The College is under the supervision of a Board of Trustees.

The Students, in all the departments, are governed by the Faculty in accordance with regulations laid down by the Board of Trustees.

This government is of a mild, but decided nature, and is generally effected :—

1st. By persistent and stringent efforts to develop and establish the strictest principles, and to awaken and stimulate an active interest in the daily exercises.

2nd. By honorable mention in the class-room. chapel, catalogue, and on public occasions.

3d. By general and particular counsel from the President, whenever the same may be needed.

4th. By a system of demerits.

5th. By probation.

6th. By suspension.

7th. By expulsion as a last resort.

MATRICULATION.

Every student having completed his fourteenth year, and having a good record of deportment, is formally matriculated two weeks from the date of his admission.

REPORTS.

Reports respecting the conduct and scholarship of the students are sent to the parents and guardians at the close of each term. These show the number of absences from recitation, the class standing, and such other facts as may be deemed proper to communicate.

MORAL CULTURE.

All the students are required to be present at the religious exercises, which are held each morning in the College Chapel, and to attend services in the College Church every Lord's Day, unless permitted to attend some other church designated by the parent or guardian.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The College year is divided into three terms. The first term begins on the first school day of October and ends the last day of December. The second term begins on the first school day in January and ends the last of March. The third term begins on the first school day in April and ends with the Commencement.

EXAMINATIONS.

Examinations, oral and written, take place at the close of each term. No student is permitted to absent himself from examination.

RULES OF EXAMINATION.

1. Students shall be seated as directed by the examining officer.
2. No book or paper shall be brought into the examination room.
3. No student shall hold any communication with another, either orally or by writing, while under examination.
4. Each student must write his papers in a fair legible hand, and sign his name thereto.
5. The exercises shall be written on papers prepared for the purpose, which shall not be detached from each other by the student.
6. No student shall leave the room until the completion of the exercises.
7. Each student is permitted to retire when he has completed his paper. Before leaving the room he must deposit his paper upon the table or make such other disposition of it as the presiding officer may direct.

8. The examining officer is charged with a rigid execution of the rules.

LIBRARIES.

The Library consists of about 6,000 volumes, to which all the students have access. Numerous contributions are from time to time made by publishers and friends of the College. Besides the College Library, there are libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies, reserved for the use of their respective members.

SIFLEY MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY.

The collections already made are illustrative of Natural History, Archæology, Ethnology, and are arranged in such a way as to render them accessible both to students and visitors. The College affords a secure depository for objects of value and curiosity, and it is, therefore, hoped that frequent gifts will be made to the Cabinet and Museum.

READING ROOM.

The Reading Room connected with the College, contains some of the best periodicals and newspapers of the day, kept on file for the use of the students.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two Literary Societies connected with the College—the Phrenakosmian and the Excelsior. A good opportunity is herein afforded for improvement in composition, debate and elocution. The halls appropriated to the use of the Societies are large and neatly furnished. The Societies meet once a week. They publicly celebrate the anniversaries of their organizations. These Societies are considered a part of the educational appliances of the College, and all matriculated students are required to join one of them.

LOCATION.

The College is located at Newberry, S. C., a healthy and beautiful town, in one of the best sections of the State. Intermediate between the extreme Northern and Southern sections of the country, this locality especially commends itself to Southern students. Newberry is noted for the intelligence and refinement of its citizens. The College building is situated on an eminence overlooking the town, and, in its ample and pleasant accommodations, is unsurpassed by any building for similar purposes in the State.

REMARKS.

The instructions and regulations of the College are such as to secure the application of the students to study, to shield him from the perils of temptation, and to promote a moral deportment. Parents sending their sons to Newberry College may do so with the assurance that everything will be done to promote their highest intellectual and moral training.

It is highly important that students enter College at the beginning of the term. In some cases it is impossible to make up the loss occasioned by an absence of only a few days. In view of the injurious effects of all absences, either at the beginning or at any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to encourage, or even sanction, such absence without urgent reasons.

No student is allowed to leave the town during the session without the permission of the President, nor to withdraw from the College without the consent of the Faculty, on the written authority of his parent or guardian.

All necessary books and stationery may be obtained in the town at publishers' prices.

WANTS OF THE COLLEGE.

The design of NEWBERRY COLLEGE is to give deserving students of moderate means the best opportunity for thorough education and true culture. There are, however, many deserving young men, earnestly desiring to fit themselves for usefulness, who cannot meet even the small expenses of the College.

The College needs additional scholarships for assisting poor students. We earnestly ask that provision be made for other scholarships.

It is imperative, also, that the Endowment Fund of the College be largely increased. In this respect, it is just and reasonable that the College should be placed upon a firm basis.

The College needs physical and chemical apparatus, money and books for the Library, statues, pictures, and other works of art, and specimens of all kinds for the Museum.

An additional building has become a pressing want. A substantial brick structure to accommodate the Library, the Museum and the Laboratories should be erected in the near future. Friends of the College are requested to take this urgent need into special consideration.

COLLEGIATE DEPARTMENT.

TIME AND CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

The regular examination for admission to the Freshman Class will take place on Thursday and Friday of the week preceding Commencement. There will be a second examination on the first day of the first term. In special cases applicants may be examined at other times.

Candidates for advanced standing will be subjected to a general examination in the studies already pursued by the class they propose to enter. No student can be entered as a candidate for matriculation unless he produces testimonials of good character.

Students coming from other Colleges and bringing certificates of dismission, in accordance with the established custom of Colleges, may, upon proof of their qualifications, be admitted to corresponding standing in this College.

The success of the student in College depends so much upon a thorough preparatory course, that the authorities of the College are compelled to be more strict in their requirements than formerly.

Candidates for the Freshman Class are often very deficient in the rudiments of an English Education, as well as in the Grammars of the Latin and Greek Languages. Thorough preparatory training is necessary to enable students to pursue the prescribed College Courses with pleasure and profit.

FOR THE COURSE FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF ARTS.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in the following subjects, but real equivalents for any of the following requirements will be accepted:

Latin.—Grammar; Three Books of Cæsar's Gallic War; One Book of Virgil's Æneid.

Greek.—Grammar; Reader, or Two Books of Xenophon's Anabasis.

Mathematics.—Arithmetic; Algebra to Quadratics.

English.—Grammar; Descriptive and Physical Geography; History of the United States.

FOR THE COURSE FOR THE DEGREE OF BACHELOR OF PHILOSOPHY.

Candidates for admission to the Freshman Class are examined in all the studies specified above, Greek excepted.

FOR THE SELECT COURSE.

Students who wish to pursue a Select Course, without entering as candidates for a Degree, must undergo an examination in such subjects as are preparatory to the studies which they desire to pursue in College.

GENERAL INFORMATION.

GOVERNMENT.

The College is under the supervision of a Board of Trustees.

The students, in all the departments, are governed by the Faculty in accordance with regulations laid down by the Board of Trustees.

This government is of a mild, but decided nature, and is generally effected:—

1st. By persistent and stringent efforts to develop and establish the strictest principles, and to awaken and stimulate an active interest in the daily exercises.

2nd. By honorable mention in the class-room, chapel, catalogue, and on public occasions.

3d. By general and particular counsel from the President, whenever the same may be needed.

4th. By a system of demerits.

5th. By probation.

6th. By suspension.

7th. By expulsion as a last resort.

MATRICULATION.

Every student having completed his fourteenth year, and having a good record of deportment, is formally matriculated two weeks from the date of his admission.

REPORTS.

Reports respecting the conduct and scholarship of the students are sent to the parents and guardians at the close of each term. These show the number of absences from recitation, the class standing, and such other facts as may be deemed proper to communicate.

MORAL CULTURE.

All the students are required to be present at the religious exercises, which are held each morning in the College Chapel, and to attend services in the College Church every Lord's

Day, unless permitted to attend some other church designated by the parent or guardian.

TERMS AND VACATIONS.

The College year is divided into three terms. The first term begins on the first school day of October and ends the last day of December. The second term begins on the first school day in January and ends the last of March. The third term begins on the first school day in April and ends with the Commencement.

EXAMINATIONS.

Examinations, oral and written, take place at the close of each term. No student is permitted to absent himself from examination.

RULES OF EXAMINATION.

1. Students shall be seated as directed by the examining officer.
2. No book or paper shall be brought into the examination room.
3. No student shall hold any communication with another, either orally or by writing, while under examination.
4. Each student must write his papers in a fair, legible hand, and sign his name thereto.
5. The exercises shall be written on papers prepared for the purpose, which shall not be detached from each other by the student.
6. No student shall leave the room until the completion of the exercises.
7. Each student is permitted to retire when he has completed his paper. Before leaving the room he must deposit his paper upon the table or make such other disposition of it as the presiding officer may direct.
8. The examining officer is charged with a rigid execution of the rules.

LIBRARIES.

The Library consists of about 6,000 volumes, to which all the students have access. Numerous contributions are from time to time made by publishers and friends of the College. Besides the College Library, there are libraries belonging to the two Literary Societies, reserved for the use of their respective members.

SIFLEY MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY.

The collections already made are illustrative of Natural History, Archæology, Ethnology, and are arranged in such a way as to render them accessible both to students and visitors. The College affords a secure depository for objects of value and curiosity, and it is, therefore, hoped that frequent gifts will be made to the Cabinet and Museum.

READING ROOM.

The Reading Room connected with the College contains some of the best periodicals and newspapers of the day, kept on file for the use of the students.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are two Literary Societies connected with the College —the Phrenakosmian and the Excelsior. A good opportunity is herein afforded for improvement in composition, debate and elocution. The halls appropriated to the use of the Societies are large and neatly furnished. The Societies meet once a week. They publicly celebrate the anniversaries of their organizations. These Societies are considered a part of the educational appliances of the College, and all matriculated students are required to join one of them.

Y. M. C. A.

There is an active Young Men's Christian Association in the College. Meetings are held every Saturday night in the Chapel. The exercises are varied and calculated to foster a devotional spirit, to increase knowledge of the great interests of the Church, and to stimulate the efforts of the students in the formation of Christian character. A special feature of this Association is a committee, whose business it is to meet new students upon their arrival at the railroad depot and to render them such advice and assistance as may be needed to make them comfortable in their new surroundings. The Faculty look upon this Association as a valuable aid in checking disorder and the prevention of such mischievous conduct as hazing.

LOCATION.

The College is located at Newberry, S. C., a healthy and beautiful town, in one of the best sections of the State. Intermediate between the extreme Northern and Southern sections of the country, this locality especially commends itself to Southern students. Newberry is noted for the intelligence and refinement of its citizens. The College building is situated on an eminence overlooking the town, and, in its ample and pleasant accommodations, is unsurpassed by any building for similar purposes in the State.

REMARKS.

The instructions and regulations of the College are such as to secure the application of the student to study, to shield him from the perils of temptation, and to promote a moral deportment. Parents sending their sons to Newberry College may do so with the assurance that everything will be done to promote their highest intellectual and moral training.

It is highly important that students enter College at the beginning of the term. In some cases it is impossible to make up the loss occasioned by an absence of only a few days. In view of the injurious effects of all absences, either at the beginning or at any other period of the term, upon the standing and proficiency of the student, parents and guardians are earnestly requested not to encourage, or even sanction, such absence without urgent reasons.

No student is allowed to leave the town during the session without the permission of the President, nor to withdraw from the College without the consent of the Faculty, on the written authority of his parent or guardian.

All necessary books and stationery may be obtained in the town at publishers' prices.

WANTS OF THE COLLEGE.

The design of NEWBERRY COLLEGE is to give deserving students of moderate means the best opportunity for thorough education and true culture. There are, however, many deserving young men, earnestly desiring to fit themselves for usefulness, who cannot meet even the small expenses of the College.

The College needs additional scholarships for assisting poor students. We earnestly ask that provision be made for other scholarships.

It is imperative, also, that the Endowment Fund of the College be largely increased. In this respect, it is just and reasonable that the College should be placed upon a firm basis.

The College needs physical and chemical apparatus, money and books for the Library, statues, pictures and other works of art and specimens of all kinds for the Museum.

An additional building has become a pressing want. A substantial brick structure to accommodate the Library, the Museum and the Laboratories should be erected at once. Friends of the College are requested to take this urgent need into special and immediate consideration.
